HOBGOOD IS TAKEN TO STATE PRISON

Will Serve Sentence of Thirty Years for Killing Prophus Wilkinson.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Raleigh, N. C., September 25.—John Hobgood was brought to the penitentiary to-day from Oxford to begin the service of his sentence of thirty years for the murder of Prophus Wilkinson, commissioner of Granville County, because Wilkinson had sheltered his wife and child, who had been driven from Hobgood's home by his drunken wife. The murder occurred three weeks ago, and Governor Kitchen ordered a special court to be held. He is especially well connected in Granville County, a brother of the sheriff-elect of Granville.

Charters are issued for the Richlands Valley Company, of Waynesville, capital $50,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed, by C. Y. Mayo, W. S. Brooke, James Atkins, Jr., and others, and for the Imperial Pharmacy Company, of Fayetteville, capital $10,000, by M. L. Perry, F. A. Fleming, W. J. Elliott, and others, for a general drug business.

When appeals from the Sixth Judicial District are called next Tuesday for argument in the Supreme Court, the first argument will be in the noted case of State vs. John Norris, from Wake County, under sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary for the murder of J. B. Bissett in a code just east of Raleigh eighteen months ago.

Norris has been in Wake County Jail since his conviction and sentence of year ago last July. Several months ago a note from his window on the second floor of the jail and another attracting the attention of the jailor, Norris was taken to the city and worked and was well known in Norfolk and Richmond before coming to Raleigh. The conviction of Norris was pronounced by Judge Bissett, who was surprised and shot down while he was with a woman with whom both Norris and Bissett had been earlier in the evening.

Judge Frank Carter, in writing on the college hazing evil and best means of eliminating it takes the ground that there is no legislation that can end it and that the breaking up of this dangerous practice lies with the college faculties. He would not only have all students entering college pledged to abstain from all forms of hazing and from aiding and abetting in any way, but he would have a regulation that before being allowed to take an examination for advancement the student must file a written oath verifying in due form of law that he has not taken part in aided or unaided hazing, or consented to any act of hazing, and that he has no knowledge, information or belief that any other student has permitted, encouraged or consented to any hazing except as enumerated in affidavits filed by the student with the faculty just as soon as knowledge, information or belief of hazing was acquired or received.

There is much interest in the movement to organize at Chambers of Commerce and Board of Trade. The movement is being pushed by Fred N. Tate, of High Point, Mayor of that great manufacturing city, and by other prominent business men of the State, and the indications that all the largest towns will participate in this movement are great. It is believed that the movement will be of great benefit to the business interests of the State.

Here you have the best feature of the New Websterian 1912 Dictionary, illustrated, called to your attention—its size makes it possible to use it conveniently anywhere and everywhere.

Six copies clipped from consecutive issues of The Times-Dispatch and the book that you will be showing your neighbors, after you have paid the small expense bonus incidental to the purchase, is yours.

This is not the dictionary that you will eventually buy. It is the dictionary that you certainly will buy at once when you see it.

That's the reason why. That's the explanation for the unbroken chain of dictionary buyers which has been sweeping in and out of the Dictionary Department, carrying away the record-breaking number of the distribution. That's the reason that orders are pouring in as fast as they can be filled through the Dictionary Department of Webster's Dictionary Co. by their successors.

News of South Richmond

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST CHURCH AT WOODLAND HEIGHTS.

South Richmond Bureau.
The Times-Dispatch.
1020 Hull Street.
Phone Madison 175.

Union meetings of Staunton River Association, Primitive Baptists, will begin to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock at the church, Twenty-eighth Street, Woodland Heights. They will last three days, ending with a service Sunday night. The Woodland Heights church is one of a number forming a union, on every month containing five Sundays a three-day service is held at one of the churches. Delegates from the other churches forming the union are appointed. Among those who will attend the meeting here are Elders Connelly, New York; Simpkins, Raleigh; Walker, Danville; Denny and Walton, Winston-Salem; and Compton, Louisiana County.

The Woodland Heights church is the only Primitive Baptist church in or around Richmond. Although the congregation numbers only sixteen, a handsome structure of brick, with a seating capacity of 250, was erected at a cost of $2,000. The money was raised by popular subscription from members of the faith. No regularly called pastor has yet been secured, but as there is a large number of Primitive Baptists living in the city, it is thought that the congregation will soon be greatly increased.

Renale-Lottner Marriage.
A marriage of considerable interest to Southsiders was performed yesterday morning, when Miss Henrietta Augusta Lottner, of Forest Hill, became the wife of Charles Allen Renale, of Granite. Accompanied by Miss Rennie, a sister of the groom, and A. S. Hatcher, the young couple left yesterday morning for Washington, where they were quietly married. They left immediately on a wedding tour, which will embrace Northern points. After a two-weeks' trip, Mr. and Mrs. Renale will be at home to their friends at 1113 Floyd Avenue.

Policeman Loses Keys.
Mounted Officer J. V. Manning, of the Third District, is minus his keys and police whistle, which he was unfortunately enough to lose yesterday afternoon between the Free Bridge and Seventh and Hull Streets. Without the keys the officer is badly handicapped, being unable to open the alarm boxes. Columbus Taylor, fourteen years old, was yesterday taken into custody on charge of stealing a monkey wrench from the Southern Bargain House. He is in the evening.

500 DELEGATES TRUE REFORMERS

Hold Enthusiastic Meeting and Collect $2,388 From the Members Present.

Hope for the rehabilitation of the wrecked finances of the organization was the keynote of Grand Worthy Master Rose's annual address yesterday morning before the 500 delegates to the thirty-second annual session of the Grand Fountain, United Order of True Reformers, who crowded into the True Reformers' Hall, on Second Street, to tussle with the problems that face this powerful colored society. The grand worthy master went beyond the mere assertion that the order will regain its old prestige and recommended that every member be called upon to contribute $1 and all division chiefs and employees $5, within sixty days, to set the finances of the Grand Fountain on its feet. His suggestion was adopted unanimously, and with the passage of the motion the aisles were filled with delegates crowding up to the platform, holding aloft dollar bills and shouting, "Here's mine now."

Money a Plenty.
There is no doubt of the seriousness with which the convention will tackle the rehabilitation of the order. $215 were thrust at the secretaries by the stamped convention within a few minutes. $168 being donated through the credentials committee, $1,000 being collected from dues and $1,000 subscribed to be paid within sixty days, making a total of $2,388 poured in by the enthusiastic delegates in the course of the day. The convention is determined to put the order on a sound business basis, which will preclude a repetition of the crash in which Reuben T. Hill, cashier of the True Reformers' Bank, in Richmond, figured so prominently.

In his address, the grand master made a rousing appeal for the support of chiefs and members in these dark days. Within a reasonable time, he said, all obligations of whatever character, will be met by the Grand Fountain. He complimented division chiefs and State deputies for the good work and paid high tribute to the white people of Richmond, whose friendship and assistance will enable the order to emerge finally from its heavy misfortunes.

Election of Officers.
The play, "A Woman's Honor," was staged by the office force of the Grand Fountain last night, the proceeds going to swell the free will offering made yesterday. To-day the reports of the grand officers will be heard, and the general officers, who serve for four years, elected. It is probable that the convention will adjourn this evening.

The United Order of True Reformers is the most powerful colored organization in America, numbering 20,797 members. Its activities have been exerted in every direction, and at this time the order is financially interested in stores, a bank, a hotel, a newspaper, a printing office and various other enterprises. It was through mismanagement in these diversified business ventures and the heavy peculations of Hill that the finances of the organization were ruined. The grand treasurer reported $100,268.55 collected last year from various sources.

Continues Motion for Judgment.

The appealed case of C. J. White against T. J. Parrish was settled yesterday when a judgment in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $40 was awarded. Parrish, defended by Charles T. Morris, appealed from a decision of Justice Maurice, of Police Court, Part II, requiring him to pay a board bill. The plaintiff was represented by W. C. Pulliam.

For a consideration of $10, P. A. Fore yesterday transferred to Captain A. S. Wright his interest in a parcel of property, with improvements thereon, fronting 23 feet on the west line of Twelfth Street between Everett and Stockton. The lot has a depth of 123 feet.

MAN IS ACCUSED OF LEAVING GIRL

He Denies Charge, and Both Are Held by Alexandria Authorities.

Alexandria, Va., September 25.—Miss Nora Bergett, claiming to be only eighteen years old, whose home is at Keswick, nine miles beyond Charlottesville, Albemarle County, picked up on the streets this morning by Policeman Bell while apparently wandering without any place to go.

After being escorted to police station the woman told a story of having been brought here and deserted by Robert E. Cassidy, thirty-seven years old, of Charlottesville. According to the story unfolded by the woman she and Cassidy left home September 17 last and they went to Baltimore and visited relatives of his, and subsequently went to Washington, where they remained for some time, and arrived here yesterday. The woman alleges that he promised to marry her after obtaining a divorce, and she also claimed that he left her in front of the post-office this morning and she was without funds. The woman presented a rather bedraggled appearance after having been out in the rain most of the night. They arrived here yesterday.

She appeared considerably distressed over her predicament and is anxious to return to her parents' home in the country. As soon as the woman had narrated her story, the police started out in search of Cassidy and he was located a short time afterward by Sergeant Wilkinson and Policeman Bell at the Union Railway Station and brought to the post-office corner and locked up. He told an entirely different story from that of the woman and denied in lots more of her statements.

Among other things he said the woman was twenty-one years old and he never made any promise of marriage, and that in addition he never saw her after leaving her at the post-office corner and went for a drink and something to eat and returning fifteen minutes afterward found she had vanished. Then he claims he went out in search of his companion and was unable to locate her.

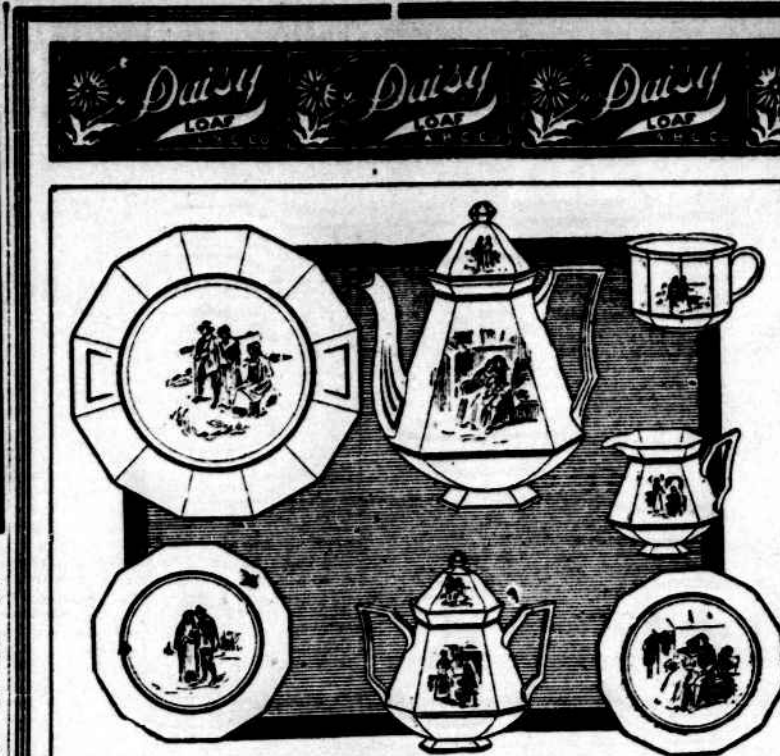

Chief of Police Goods, thinking the case might be one that would come under the hand of the Department of Justice, notified that department, and during the morning a special agent came over to Alexandria and investigated the case and reported that it could not be handled by that department.

TEXTBOOK NO LONGER PROSAIC DOCUMENT

Democratic Campaign Guide is Full of Interesting Facts and Figures, and Alive With Up-to-Date Reading Matter.

Washington, September 25.—Brim full of interest from cover to cover, and alive with telling facts and figures, the Democratic campaign textbook for the present year has just been received in Washington. More like a modern magazine, alive with up-to-date reading matter than the old-fashioned and prosaic documents which heretofore have been sent out by campaign committees, there is not a dull line in the entire 400 pages of the new book.

Appealing to the "sweet girl graduate," she is told that the dotted Swiss in her graduation gown is the product of the mill of United States Senator Henry F. Lippitt, of Rhode Island; that because of the "protection" demanded by the Republican party her mother or perhaps poor father is forced to pay $2.75 for the fabric in this gown, while her English cousin buys it for $1.87—a difference of 47 per cent.

The girl who is attired in a beautiful white dress—ready for seashore or mountain resort—with everything to match—is told that eleven yards of fancy worsted in the United States $1.05 and in England $1.11. The eleven yards retail in England for $1.87 and in the United States for $2.75. Why? Because the Payne-Aldrich tariff amounts to 66 cents. Under the Dingley law it was 45 cents.

Taking stockings, a most necessary part of the modern feminine wardrobe, it is shown that the American cost of producing seamless hosiery is as low as Germany's. Our machinery is just as efficient and our labor is paid little if any more. See what "protection" does. As it is, the woman of to-day pays at least 50 cents, and often 65, for a seamless cotton and silk hose stocking of mercerized cotton top. It costs to manufacture this stocking in an American mill 23 1/2-100 cents a pair. The mill sells them to jobbers only at 25 1/2-100 cents and the jobber to the retailer at 35 1/2-100 cents a pair. Total labor cost per pair, $1.12-100 cents; import duty per pair, 12 1/2-100 cents. The duty is 42-100 times the total labor cost.

Touching on sugar, an item of food which goes on the breakfast table of rich and poor alike—it is shown that under the oppressive Payne-Aldrich law the total cost to the American consumer annually by reason of the outrageous duty exacted is $125,675,500. Of this amount $52,500,000 goes to the government in revenue and the remainder into the pockets of the tariff-favored sugar interests of Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippines, Cuba, Louisiana planters and promoters of beet sugar factories as a bounty from the government.

The tariff on sugar is perhaps the best illustration of the extortionate operation of the tariff laws under which we are living. The government levies a duty on the imported half, from which is collected seventeen per cent of our entire customs revenue. The domestic producers, who supply us with half of our requirements, have their prices on the value of imported

After spending many years in teaching, I believe it is easier to cultivate good habits than to remove bad ones; better to send a boy to a school where the faculty spends more time in training a young man to do right than in trying to prevent him from doing wrong; that it is cheaper and better to prevent crime than to cure criminals; that it is always better to send a young man or boy to a school where he is likely to be won to the Christian life when he is in the formative period, than to leave him at home, untaught, unmoral, and the highest regard for his teachers. No wonder the outlook for years to come is so bright.

IMPROVEMENTS AT JEFFERSON HOTEL WILL IMPROVE GOLF COURSE

Remodelling and Decorations, Costing $50,000, Have Been Completed.

The contractors engaged to remodel the cafe, auditorium and kitchen of the Jefferson Hotel at a cost of $50,000 have practically concluded their work and the nightly screen that has separated the cafe from the Palm Court for several months will be torn down within two weeks and the main floor of the hotel thrown open again. While the cafe has been remodeled, the auditorium has merely been completed. The auditorium has never been considered completed, although it has been in actual use five years or more. The decorators have worked a revolution in what was formerly a barn of a hall. Thousands of dollars have been expended by the management in decorating the interior of this hall in keeping with the style of the rest of the hotel and the result is an impressive as to astonish the most conservative of old auditoriums. The new scheme is old ivory and a light shade of green for the walls and ceiling, dark green paneling breaking the monotony of the walls. The whole is ornamented in the popular rococo hotel scheme, but tastefully never the less. The hangings at the windows and from the balcony will be of green silk and a green carpet will be spread over the dancing floor in place of the old canvas. The foyer has been treated in the same scheme, and is beautiful. The stage also has been remodeled and walled up to make it suitable now for productions of any description.

The cafe adjoining the Palm Court is being decorated in the style originally called for by the designers of the hotel, Carrere and Hastings, of New York. In the afternoon it will serve as a tearoom and at night for after-theatre supper. The huge outlay of money at the below stairs has practically rebuilt the kitchens of the hotel.

An unofficial opening of the hotel season in Richmond will be celebrated this evening with the resumption of the daily concerts in the balcony. Professor Claude Elam and his orchestra, which has not played in the hotel since June, will return to-day for the winter. The concerts this year will be given at the old hours and the popular Sunday night music will be continued.

Important Meeting of Amateur Commission

What will probably prove the most important meeting of the Amateur Baseball Commission held at the University of Virginia, at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, was the meeting of the Amateur Baseball Commission. Every member of the commission, every President of each league in the city and every captain of every team playing under the rules of the commission are urgently requested to be present. Plans for next season, several changes in the playing rules, and other matters of the most vital importance are to be discussed and acted upon. It is essential that the opinion of all interested in amateur baseball be secured, so that intelligent and effective legislation may be enacted. It is hoped that the duties may be swept clear of all disputes, squabbles, and other matters of this nature, so that the most important question to be considered, the growth of amateur baseball has been great, and this rapid growth has created problems not foreseen by the commission.
